PREMIER AND THE EMPIRE.

STATEMENT ON FREE TRADE ISSUE.

ECONOMIC ARRANGEMENTS TO BE MADE.

AIM OF CONFERENCE.

London, July 13.
An important reference to Empire Free Trade was made by the Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, when he made a speech at the Crystal Palace last night. Mr. MacDonald emphasised that the advocates of Empire Free Trade had no authority from the Dominions to engage in the present propaganda.

There was not a single Dominion but was developing on national lines its own industrial and economic evolution, and no Government, whatever its majority may be in this country, could force on the Dominions an economic policy in which the Dominions did not believe.

Labour's Chance.

Dealing with the implication that the Labour Government had no interest in the Dominions and no influence upon Dominion opinion he said, "Against that I believe that if the Dominions are going to come in with us in economic co-operation, if the Dominions and ourselves are to devise an economic and industrial policy which will be beneficial to all of us, then the Labour Government has a better chance of bringing about that agreement than a Government of any other party in this country."

"In the Imperial Conference in September we are going to do everything that can be done by the British Government to come to economic arrangements with the Dominions that will benefit the working classes of this country."

Indian Situation.

Referring to the situation in India the Prime Minister said the state of India to-day was serious. What was happening was only adding to India's difficulties and was not advancing India's chance of reaching Dominion Status.

"Men with whom we wish to co-operate have had to be arrested for actions which, if they themselves had been responsible for purely Indian Government, would have been the conditions such as those they have created recently, would have compelled the arrest of people responsible for the conditions."

"The whole of this is a melancholy thing which is unnecessary and foolish. Men who are going to be Governors of States and responsible for the Administration ought to look ahead and understand the conditions under which alone Administration and change are possible."

Agricultural Policy.

Earl De La Warr, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture, speaking at Mold yesterday, said Dr. Addison, Minister of Agriculture, intended to place the development of agriculture, rural education and research in the forefront of his policy. The Government, he added, was considering the possibility of giving to the majority of farmers encouragement in producing a given commodity the right to form an organisation for controlling marketing of that commodity—with power to bring in recalcitrant minorities.

This would entail formulating a scheme for submission to Parliament through the Ministry of Agriculture and satisfying them that the scheme represented the view of the bulk of produce and that the rights of minorities of consumers had been considered. Although they did not envisage taking power to enforce the scheme of organisation under industry, they did envisage giving to industry the power to organise itself.—British Wireless.

PARIS ATHLETICS.

FRANCE'S COMFORTABLE WIN OVER ITALY.

Paris, July 13.
In the athletic meeting here to-day France beat Italy by 81 points to 67.—Reuter.

SABOTAGE RIFE IN SHANGHAI.

SERIOUS DEVELOPMENT OF THE TRAM STRIKE.

TERRORIST CAMPAIGN.

Shanghai, July 14.
The celebration of "Quatorze Juillet" opened last night with the customary torchlight procession. An unusual feature of this was that when it was entering the Koukaza Gardens it was led by a police party who had in handcuffs with them four Chinese who had scattered pamphlets on the route of the procession.

Few people noticed that the men gaily marching at the head of the triumphal procession were in fetters and indeed the men themselves showed small signs of the ignominy of their position.

French police, armed and carrying batons, were conspicuous mingling among the crowd and amidst those in the procession.

The French tram strikers decided at a meeting on July 12 that all attacks on trams and water mains should be made as far as possible during the Bastille Day celebrations.

The strike has developed into a campaign of sabotage and terrorism. Well planned attacks have been made on trams and motor cars, while water and electricity mains have been cut with apparent impunity.

The French Concession was thrown into darkness on Saturday night as a result of interference with transformers. In seven districts the tram service was automatically suspended. Five water and electric mains were also cut and seven trams have been wholly or partially destroyed since July 11 with attendant injury to passengers.

Motor cars are being stoned after dark by gangs of men who appear confident that they will not be caught.

Although confirmation of the report is lacking, an Annamite policeman is believed to have died as a result of injuries inflicted by strikers on July 11. No important arrests have been made in connexion with the disturbances.—Our Own Correspondent.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN PETER TALL.

FORMER TUG MASTER DIES AT HOME.

Many older residents of the Colony will hear with the deepest regret of the death in England of Captain Peter Tall, who was for some time tugmaster at Tai-koo and afterwards served on a number of river boats.

The late Capt. Tall, who was well over 80 years of age, passed away on May 29th at the residence in Liverpool of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Quayle. Shortly after his illness, his son came over from New York and was with him when he passed away. The funeral took place on June 3rd, at Maghull, near Liverpool.

Captain and Mrs. Tall left the Colony for good some years back and settled down at Maghull, where in January of this year, Mrs. Tall had the misfortune to be killed by being knocked down by a heavy motor wagon. Captain Tall never got over the shock of his wife's tragic death and had been ailing for some months past. Both he and his wife were extremely well-known in the Colony, where they made hosts of friends during their lengthy residence. Captain Tall was a popular member of the Civil Service and the Phoenix Club, and the news of his death will be learned with much regret here.

THE NEW PEKING GOVERNMENT.

NATIONALISTS PAY LITTLE HEED.

CLAIM BIG VICTORY IN THE LATEST FIGHTING.

POLITICAL ACTIVITY.

Shanghai, July 13.
Apparently paying no attention to the formation of an independent Government in Peking by the Kuomintang Leftists, Reorganisationists, and Northern militarists, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek is pursuing his campaign along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, being content to abandon some ground on the Lung-Hai Railway for the defence of his Headquarters, Hsuechow.

Marshal Chiang's picked army, the First Nationalist Division, under the personal direction of its Officer in Command, General Liu Chi, has engaged the Shansi insurgents in a severe encounter near Yenchow.

Nanking Claims Victory.

General Liu Chi claims a smashing victory at Yenchow during the fighting on Friday and Saturday, stating that a whole Shansi Regiment of over three thousand men was totally annihilated.

The decisive battle between the Nanking and Shansi factions is expected to take place in the very near future, and the Nationalist general offensive was announced on Saturday with General Liu Chi expressing the hope of recapturing Tsinanfu, the capital of Shantung, before the end of this week.

That the Tientsin-Pukow Railway is destined to be the scene of much warfare is evidenced by the departure from Nanking during the week-end of 6,000 cases of arms and ammunition, consisting of shells, machine-gun ammunition and grenades, for the Nationalist troops fighting near Yenchow.

The Shansi Commanders are inciting a strike of the Chinese railwaymen working on the Tsinanfu-Kiaochow Railway with a view to hindering the progress of the Nationalist troops between Weihsien and Tsingtau.

Peking Session.

Marshal Fung Yu-shiang has dispatched a telegram of congratulation to the Plenary Session of the Central Party Headquarters at Peking. Commenting on the inaugural conference, Marshal Fung says that the formation of a new Government will give renewed courage to the Kuomintang forces. The Plenary Session at Peking is an amalgamation of the Peiyang militarists with the following Kuomintang political cliques: Reorganisation Party, Kuomintang Leftists, Western Hill Party, and some Kuomintang extremists now in exile from China. The names of 18 Reorganisationists and 18 members of the Western Hill Party are noted at the manifesto.

Madame Sun Named.

The Plenary Session has decided to wire to some of the Kuomintang Leftist politicians now residing in South China to proceed to Peking to participate in the formation of an independent Kuomintang Party and Military Government in the North. The name of Madame Sun Yat-sen, regarded as a Kuomintang extremist, is also included in the list of organisers of the Plenary Session, while Mr. Quo Tai-chi signed on behalf of Mr. Wang Ching-wei there was no-one to sign for Madame Sun Yat-sen. The possibilities are that she has not been informed of the activities of the Kuomintang politicians in Peking. Madame Sun was last reported to be in Russia.

Tuesday has been proclaimed by the Peking Government to be a general holiday in connexion with the celebration of the inauguration of the new political regime in Peking.

Over a thousand Reorganisationists and members of the Western Hill and Kuomintang extremist parties have arrived in Peking in anticipation of the inauguration of a new Government, when their services will be needed.

FORMER HONGKONG BANKER.

NOT GUILTY ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

JUDGE'S DIRECTION.

Home papers to hand contain reports of the case at the Cornwall Assizes, before Mr. Justice Swift, in which Mr. L. E. Hopkins, former manager of the P. and O. Banking Corporation in Hongkong, and now licensee of the King's Head Hotel, Chacewater, was charged, on a Coroner's inquisition, with the manslaughter of Mr. Harry Pascoe, a well-known schoolmaster.

Mr. Anthony Hawke, prosecuting, said that, having regard to the attitude taken by the magistrates in dismissing the charge of manslaughter, he felt some difficulty about proceeding with the case on the Coroner's warrant. If his lordship thought it was not a proper case to proceed with, he would bow to his ruling.

The Judge:—If you think it is a proper case in which you should offer no evidence, I shall make no adverse comment.

Mr. Hawke:—In view of that, I have no alternative but to offer no evidence on behalf of the prosecution.

Mr. J. L. Pratt was briefed for the defence.

After a jury was empanelled to return a verdict, his lordship told them that the case arose out of a motor accident to a man named Harry Pascoe, who was unfortunately killed. A Coroner's jury found that Hopkins was guilty of criminal negligence, and he had been committed for trial. The case was afterwards investigated by the magistrates, who came to the conclusion that there was no case against him. Now no evidence was being offered by the prosecution—a very proper thing. The jury could only decide cases on evidence, and when there was no evidence it was their business to say that a prisoner was not guilty.

The jury returned a verdict of "Not guilty," and Mr. Hopkins was discharged.

AUSTRALIAN FOUND DEAD.

BODY IN A CUBICLE IN KOWLOON.

Some excitement was caused in Kowloon Police circles yesterday evening, when a rumour was current that a European had been murdered and left in a flat in Canton Road. The dead body of a European was the reason for the excitement, the corpse being discovered in the front cubicle on the top floor of No. 128 on that road.

Inquiries were immediately made and in a little while the body was removed to the Kowloon Mortuary. There, it is reported, Dr. Smalley carried out a post mortem examination, as a result of which it was disnatural causes.

The body has been identified as that of an Australian named G. R. Welch, employed by John Vose and Co., importers and exporters, of Karamally Building. He was last residing at the Palace Hotel.

MARINE FATALLY SHOT.

ACCIDENT ON "HELENA" AT CANTON.

News has reached the Colony to the effect that whilst holding a revolver inspection on the U.S.S. Helena at Canton on Saturday morning, Sergeant William Jay Macauley, of the U.S. Marine Corps, was accidentally shot and died almost immediately.

A board of inquest held on the same day determined that it was an accidental wound received in the course of duty.

Little is known of Sgt. Macauley in Hongkong, but as he was a First Sergeant it is probable that he had had a long record in the Marines. His body will be taken to Manila.

The Helena had been in Canton for about three weeks and left there this morning for Hongkong.

SWEEP LEGALITY QUESTIONED.

GETTING TICKETS FOR FRIENDS.

INTERESTING POINT RAISED AT SINGAPORE.

PROSECUTION FAILS.

Singapore, July 5.
The legality or otherwise of the practice of members of a club selling or giving tickets in sweeps run by that club to their friends, relations or employees, was the main question at issue behind the prosecution before Mr. P. S. Williams in the Police Court yesterday, when a wealthy Chinese Towkay, Choo Pok Keng, and his employee, Chee Liew Chan, were tried on various charges in connexion with the running and management of a public lottery.

After hearing the evidence Mr. Williams came to the conclusion that it was a private lottery, and, therefore, not illegal, and accordingly acquitted the accused.

The Deputy Public Prosecutor (Mr. J. H. Pedlow) appeared for the Crown, and Mr. Roland Bradwell, assisted by Mr. P. H. Battishill, was for the defence, while Mr. C. H. Smith held a watching brief for the Singapore Turf Club.

How Ticket Was Bought.

The evidence for the prosecution revealed that an informer of the name of Rahamin was sent with a $5 note, of which the number had been recorded, to the first accused's business premises at 35, North Canal Road, with instructions to obtain a chance in the unlimited sweep of the Singapore Turf Club, of which he was not a member. He went there, and was told a chance would be obtained for him.

Shortly after, A. S. P. Tongue raided the premises, and arrested both accused, seizing a quantity of literature alleged to be used in connexion with the running of a public lottery.

"On His Knees."

Giving evidence, the first accused said that Rahamin, the informer, was a business friend of his, whom he had helped on several occasions. Rahamin asked accused twice to get a ticket for him, but he refused, and then Rahamin went down on his knees and begged accused to get him a chance in the sweep, and eventually he promised to do so.

Several witnesses were called for the defence, whose names appeared in the record kept by accused to get them tickets. They were mostly personal and business friends. One witness was cook to the first accused. He was given a $2 share in the kongsi, and two $5 chances, but he did not pay accused any money.

Public or Private?

Mr. Pedlow said it was quite true that the Crown had only produced one man who said he went in and asked for a ticket and got it. His submission was that if the magistrate thought the man got his tickets as a member of the public or any class of the public then that would be sufficient to turn a private lottery into a public one, even if only one ticket was sold to a member of the public.

They were asked to believe that Rahamin, who was not of the same nationality of the accused, or the same religion, or same social standing, or monetary position, procured his ticket solely on the basis of friendship. He suggested the more reasonable construction was that Rahamin went to ask for a ticket as a member of the public and got one as such.

The Point at Issue.

The question really turned on whether the lottery was a private one strictly within the meaning of the terms and whether Rahamin's action turned it into a public one. The question of whether it was private or public depended on whether the public or any class of the public had access to it, and it was most difficult, as Mr. Bradwell pointed out in his commentary, to define this exactly. There was one thing that seemed to be

PLANE'S CRASH ON MOUNTAIN.

AIRMEN WALK FOR SEVEN DAYS IN BURMA.

HOOK LEFT BEHIND.

Rangoon, July 13.

A message from Prone states that Matthews, one of the airmen in the plane which crashed while attempting a flight from England to Australia, was picked up by villagers on the slopes of the Arakanyoma Range on which the plane crashed. Matthews, together with his companion, Hook, had been walking for seven days following the course of a stream. Hook finally became exhausted and was unable to walk. He was left a day's march behind and search parties have now been despatched to find him.—Reuter.

Hook and Matthews left Lympe aerodrome on the Kent coast at four o'clock on the morning of June 20 in an attempt to set up a new record for a flight to Australia.

The machine—the Dryas—was piloted jointly by Mr. Jack Matthews, formerly a mechanic at Mr. Bert Hinkler, whose record he tried to lower, and Mr. J. Hook, a wealthy young man who has for some time been ambitious of beating Mr. Hinkler's time.

Plans for the start of the flight were made in secret. Few saw the heavily-laden plane make its exciting take-off. In order to augment the petrol supply, special tanks had been built into the fuselage and, on account of the great weight, it was only with tremendous difficulty that the airmen got the machine off the ground.

When he conceived the idea of the flight, Hook suggested to Matthews, then a mechanic, that he should learn to become a pilot. Matthews agreed and took his wings in a short time. Neither airman, however, has had much experience of flying.

They were first heard of on their arrival at Marseilles on the 21st. They arrived safely at Karachi on the 28th, two days behind Army Johnson's time but equal with Hinkler's. On July 1 they reached Calcutta, after delay from strong winds which once caused them to put back, and also from a leak in the petrol tank. On July 4 they left for Akyab and from there for Rangoon. Next day came the news that they had crashed twelve miles from Tanugup and that a search was being made in the South Burma jungle for them.

BOBBY JONES GOES HOME.

MAGNIFICENT VICTORY IN AMERICAN OPEN.

Interlachen, July 13.
After receiving the American Open Golf Championship trophy, Bobby Jones immediately entrained for his home town of Atlanta for the first time since his triumphant tour in England.

His aggregate was one stroke behind the record of Chick Evans fourteen years ago. After a wonderful round in the morning he found the rough on many occasions in the afternoon, but the wizard pulled out of the trouble and ended up the competition with a magnificent forty footer to do the last round in 75. He retired amid the plaudits of fifteen thousand people.—Reuter's American Service.

JAPAN BEATEN IN DAVIS CUP.

ITALY WINS EUROPEAN ZONE FINAL.

Genoa, July 13.
In the European Zone final of the Davis Cup competition, Italy beat Japan by three games to two. The full results were:
Harada (Japan) beat Stefani (Italy) 6-2, 7-5, 7-5.
Morpurgo (Italy) beat Ohta (Japan) 6-0, 6-2, 6-1.
Stefani (Italy) beat Ohta (Japan) 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.
Harada (Japan) beat Morpurgo 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.
Morpurgo and Gaslini (Italy) beat Harada and Abe (Japan) 8-6, 9-7, 6-8, 2-6, 6-1.—Reuter.

SENATE FIGHT ON NAVY TREATY.

PHILIPPINES ISSU RAISED.

JAPAN SCARE SAID TO BE UNWARRANTED.

SECRET DOCUMENTS.

Washington, July 8.
Battle lines were drawn to-day as the Senate sat in extraordinary session for the second time to consider ratification or rejection of the London Naval Treaty of 1930.

The Philippine Islands figured prominently in the debate in connexion with their occupation by the United States and their relation to Japan's international intentions.

Want Secret Documents.

But of chief importance was the continued attempt of Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican of California and leader of the fight on the treaty, to obtain secret documents used in the London negotiations which President Hoover and Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson have refused to deliver to the senate.

Senator Frederick Hale, Republican of Maine and Chairman of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, began a sniping attack on the treaty with questions calculated to show that the British battleships Rodney and Nelson set the limits of naval superiority despite the terms of the treaty.

Statement Challenged.

Senator David A. Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania and a member of the American delegation to the London conference challenged Senator Hale's assertion and drew attention to the fact that the United States possesses three of the most modern battleships of the U. S. S. Colorado type.

In supporting the demands of Senator McKellar for the much-argued secret documents, Senator Johnson to-day said that Secretary Stimson has no right to deny information desired by the senate.

Borah's Amendment.

Senator Borah offered an amendment to the McKellar resolution permitting President Hoover to retain secret documents, publication of which would be against the public interest. But he indicated he would vote for the McKellar resolution even if his amendment fails to carry.

Senator Swanson replied vigorously to critics of the naval treaty who contend that it would jeopardize the Philippines and the position of the United States in the islands.

"I say," said Senator Swanson, "that the United States has never been in a military position to hold the Philippines. She had her chance to fortify the islands but she passed it up. We have never been able to hold the Philippines against Japan because 20 years ago the United States refused to build adequate bases and docks. That was because we expected to relinquish the Philippines shortly after we obtained them."

Why the Scare?

"However, why this sudden scare about Japan and the fear that she is going to grab the Philippines, now or at any other time?" asked Senator Swanson. "Japan signed and observed the British Alliance. She signed the clauses of the Versailles treaty which ended the world war. She signed the 1922 Washington disarmament agreement. She has maintained an open door to the United States."

"Altogether, these things constitute evidence beyond question of Japan's faithfulness in her international obligations."

Rupture Unlikely.

"No conditions exist which would be likely to bring about a rupture between Japan and the United States. A war would be disastrous to Japan and highly ruinous or at least injurious to the United States."

Senator Swanson defended the submarine provisions of the London treaty. He said submarines are of but little use on the open sea and that their principal use in time of war would be to defend ports. Submarines are of no use to the United States in the

AN ANTI-CHIANG MANIFESTO.

NATIONAL DELEGATES TO CONFER.

Peking, July 13.
At a plenary session this afternoon attended by fifteen members of the Central Executive Committee, Wang Fa-chin, the oldest member of the Kuomintang present, presided. The meeting bowed thrice before Dr. Sun Yatsen's portrait, and Wang Fa-chin read Dr. Sun's will, then read a manifesto which the meeting signed; some signing also on behalf of prominent members not present. Altogether thirty-one signatures were attached. Quo
Tai-chi signed on behalf of Wang
Ching-wei, Chao Pi-lin for Yen
Hsi-shan, and Huang Shou-ku for Feng Yu-shiang.

The manifesto gives, from its own viewpoint, the Party history since Sun Yat-sen's death, saying the C.E.C. has striven to exterminate communism and re-organise and unify the country, but unexpectedly Chiang Kai-shek has destroyed unification of the Party and predominated over it.
His acts have been illegal, consequently he has lost the national rights abroad, and internally has much harmed the masses.

In 1929, Chiang Kai-shek called the illegal Third Plenary Session, through which he started military expeditions to exterminate other elements. Yen and Feng more than once advised him to desist, but in vain, so the comrades of all provinces decided to fight under the guidance of the Party, to oust Chiang Kai-shek without compromise.

Those signing the manifesto have decided, it declares, to organise a conference under the auspices of the Central Party Headquarters, and prepare a convocation of a conference of delegates of the whole nation to aim at establishing the foundations of the country on a sure basis.—
Reuter.

Will Set Up Government.

Peking, July 12.

The inaugural ceremony of the enlarged Plenary Session of the Central Party headquarters of the Kuomintang is to be held on Sunday afternoon in Hsuehien, in the Forbidden City. Quo Tai-chi, Hu Tsung-to, Yen Chi and other prominent members are expected to arrive in time to participate.

It is expected that following the ceremony a manifesto will be issued, signed by the participants, and this will be followed by the setting up of a Government as soon as possible.—Reuter.

BOBBY JONES IS CHAMPION.

WINS AMERICAN OPEN
TITLE.

Interlachen, July 12.

A very heavy shower this morning brought relief from the torrid heat. Bobby Jones showed great form, going round in 68, and making his total for the 54 holes, 212. Other leading scores at this stage were:

Harry Cooper	217
Horton Smith	218
John Golden	218
Johnny Farrell	219
Macdonald Smith	219
Tommy Armour	221
Walter Hagen	223
Williams	227
Von Elm	227
Joe Turnesa	229
Gene Sarazen	232
McFarlane	233

The 68 returned by Bobby Jones is the greatest he has ever done in an Open Championship and is five below the par score of the course. At the 18th, in the realisation that he was breaking the record for the course and that he was surrounded by a surging mob of 10,000, the wizard became

KOWLOON UNION CHURCH.

IMPENDING RETIREMENT OF MINISTER.

At the Union Church, Kowloon, yesterday morning, the Minister,
the Revd. J. Horace Johnston,
read the following statement:

"The Management Committee of this Church, realizing that my appointment terminates in a few months' time, raised the question whether I would contemplate a renewal of the appointment. If an invitation were forthcoming, it certainly is prudent to come to an understanding as early as possible, and I appreciated the invitation to consider the possibility of a further term of service here. After giving the question most serious thought, my reply was conveyed to the Committee at its meeting last Wednesday.

"While regretting very much to sever my connection with the Congregation and dissolve the many ties that bind me to the Colony (a regret which is fully shared by my wife) nevertheless I do not feel that I should be justified in remaining for a further term. The specific work which I came to do is very nearly accomplished, for I was induced to come to Kowloon by the prospect of opening fresh ground and building a new Church in this locality. My task has taken longer than I expected, and the new buildings are still uncompleted. The pleasure, which I have so long anticipated of entering into the more extensive promises and enjoying the increased comforts and facilities, is destined to be short-lived. All the same I do wish to carry out my whole task and I have offered to remain until Midsummer, 1931
—practically another year from
now. This will enable me to see the various activities of the Church comfortably established in the new quarters, and the Manse made into a home. Moreover it will enable me to see the $10,000 scheme completed and the endowment fund secured. By that time also the new Minister at Kennedy Road will, if all goes well, have had nine months in the Colony and be settled into his charge.
Furthermore, at Midsummer, the supply of the pulpit will be comparatively easy and an arrangement might be made similar to that which is at present so happily made in Hongkong, and thus all would be ready for the arrival of my successor at the usual season.

"These are the reasons which I gave for my offer to extend my term, if health permits, until Midsummer of next year and the offer was gratefully accepted by the Committee. It was further agreed that the Congregation should be officially informed of the step which had been taken and the understanding reached. Accordingly this statement was first submitted to the Honorary Secretary of the Committee and approved, and has now been read on this Communion Sunday morning, and will also appear in the Press for the information of a wider public.

"There is always an element of

The Final Round.
In the afternoon, commanding a lead of five strokes over his nearest rival, Bobby Jones went round in 75 and returned the gross score of 287. Macdonald Smith had the very excellent score of 70 for the last 18 holes, and finished second in the competition, with a gross score of 289. Horton Smith, who finished third, took 74 for his final round, his gross score being 292—five strokes more than the champion.

Dulls Teeth

It is a constant danger

It is the chief source of decay and pyorrhea.
The way dentists urge to combat it.

WINNING smiles depend on glorious white teeth—and teeth like that depend on freedom from what dentists know as film. Film is a stubborn, clinging coating that ordinary ways fail to remove successfully. It is the chief cause of serious tooth and gum disorders.

Film—how it destroys

You can feel film with your tongue—a slippery coating. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth "off color."

Film hardens into tartar. Germs by the millions breed in it, and they, plus tartar,
are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

To remove film, dentists prescribe the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film so that brushing easily removes it in gentle safety to enamel.

In a few days teeth grow whiter and begin to sparkle.

Pepsodent contains no pumice, harmful grit or crude abrasive. It is so safe that dentists recommend it for cleaning the soft teeth of children.

STUDENTS' HOME IN LONDON.

GREAT HALL TO BE BUILT IN BLOOMSBURY.

CONTRACT SIGNED.

A contract for the purchase of a freehold "island" site in Bloomsbury on which to erect London House, a hall of residence for British and Dominion male students in London has been signed.

This was announced at a meeting held at the Mansion House, when a public appeal was launched for £250,000, £190,000 of which has already been promised. "Oxford is not the only university to which Dominion students come," said Mr. L. S. Amery, who deputised for Mr. Stanley Baldwin. "A very much larger number study in London, but for these students there is in London at present no corporate college life."

The object of establishing the fund, he explained, was to build a great hall and common rooms, using existing buildings on the site to provide temporary accommodation.

"Richest Opportunities."

Many distinguished men spoke in support of the appeal, including Sir William Waterlow, the Lord Mayor of London, Mr. E. A. L. Fisher (Warden of New College, Oxford), Mr. Stanley Bruce (late Prime Minister of Australia), Sir James Parr (late High Commissioner for New Zealand), Sir William H. Clark (High Commissioner for Canada), Sir Drummond Chaplin (of South Africa) and Lord Moynihan, president of the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

Most of the students in residence at London House, it was pointed out, would be from the Dominions and Colonies, but, in addition, there would be students from the United Kingdom. Lord Moynihan stressed the advantages of London House for medical students, graduate and post-graduate, especially in view of the Government's intention to assist in providing a Post-graduate Hospital and Medical School at Hammersmith.

M. Ramsay MacDonald, in a letter read by the Lord Mayor, said: "Our capital city possesses the richest opportunities in every sphere of education. It is the heart of our British civilisation, but it needs a residential hall where students, undergraduates and post-graduates, and particularly those who come to us from the Empire overseas, can meet under one roof and form a collegiate society."

The City Corporation and the Rhodes Trustees have each given £5,000.

FRENCH CONSUL'S "AT HOME."

ALLUSION TO EUROPEAN FEDERATION.

On the occasion of the French National Fete, the anniversary of the taking of the Bastille in 1789, the French Consul, M. Dufaur de la Prade, held an official reception at his residence, Victoria Lodge, Peak Road, at 11.30 this morning. There was a convivial gathering which included the Colonial Secretary (Hon. Mr. E. R. Hallifax), H.E. the General Officer Commanding (Major-General J. W. Sandilands), Rear-Admiral R. A. S. Hill, the Inspector General of Police (Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, C.M.G.), the Attorney General (Hon. Mr. G. C. Alabaster), Bishop Valtorta, M. Desvazieres, members of the Consular Body, Hon. Sir Shouson Chow, Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, Hon. Mr. S. W. T'so, Dr. S. S. Strahan, Mr. W. W. Hornell, and many others, together with members of the local French Community and a number of ladies.

The French Consul gave the toast of "The King," and Major-General Sandilands in turn gave the toast of the President of the French Republic.

After the toasts had been honoured, M. Dufaur de la Prade, in a short speech, said that many people viewed the Fete of July the Fourteenth as merely signifying the fall of the Bastille in the First Revolution, but the importance of the day for French citizens went much further than that, as it was not until within the next year following the fall of the Bastille, that the work of unification of the provinces, then in a state of anarchy, was completed. So that when they celebrated the anniversary in the next year, 1880 it marked also the federation of the different provinces into the one nation that was the United France of to-day.

Alluding to a trend in current political affairs, the speaker expressed the hope of a greater federation in Europe, that being the federation of all nations into one brotherhood. He called upon the gathering to drink to the success of that greater federation (Applause).

The Nerves And Success.

Nervousness is the greatest obstacle to success, and it is an enemy of happiness and health.
Victims of "nerves" are handicapped, even though in other respects competent, for they lack energy, confidence, coolness, courage and health.

Nervousness is a sign that the nerves are weak and not receiving sufficient nourishment from the blood. The blood is at fault, and if you look at the colour of your face, lips and gums you will see you are anaemic as well as nervous.

Healthy blood carries a constant supply of nourishment to the nervous network, feeding the nerves, keeping them toned up and repairing "wear and tear."

The tonic treatment with Dr.
Williams' pink pills makes new blood, and new blood is a necessity if nerve troubles are to be overcome. Dr. Williams' pink pills supply the nerves, through the blood, with the vital elements on which they thrive, and a short course will prove what an invaluable tonic they are in neurasthenia, nervous exhaustion, or neurasthenia, St. Vitus' dance and other disorders arising from weak nerves. They are obtainable from dealers everywhere.
Start a course and begin to recover nervous force now.

FOREIGNERS FLEE FROM SHASI.

AMERICANS WARNED TO MOVE FROM AREA.

Hankow, July 12.
It is reported that all foreigners have evacuated Shasi, where fighting is going on in the native city, due, it is believed, to the "Reds," who are attacking.—Reuter.

Washington, July 12.
The State Department has decided to advise 355 Americans in Honan, Hupeh, Kiangsu and Hunan to remove to less dangerous regions.—Reuter's American Service.

Latest Position.
Shanghai, July 13.
It is officially reported from Hsuehchow, that Han Fu-chu's vanguard, have reached the vicinity of Mingshui, westward of Chowtsun, and are rapidly advancing towards Tsinan.

Eight Government aeroplanes are effectively bombing the enemy positions on the Tientsin-Pukow railway front, where the Shansi forces are stated to have suffered a crushing defeat.

On the Peking-Hankow railway front, a twenty-four hour battle is said to have taken place, on July 10, in the vicinity of Hsuehchow, both sides sustaining heavy casualties. The Government forces have seized a large number of rifles, machine-guns and ammunition.—Reuter.

WOMAN'S WORLD FOR OUR LADY READERS.

For some time we have been proclaiming the new era of black and white and all black for the formal hour, but now the greatest fancy is for all white evening frocks and our stars step forth in the latest creations.

"Classic," "Victorian," "Directoire" and "Spanish"—these are the terms characterizing our evening modes and undoubtedly Milady is at a loss for their meaning.

Gracefully flowing lines and hips that are swathed in the manner of the ancient Greeks are classic. Capes, so important to-day, are Victorian for they originated in Queen Victoria's reign. While Directoire suggests the Napoleonic period when high waistslines, tiny puffed sleeves, short capes and fitted hips were quite the thing. Gay little boleros are a decidedly Spanish influence taking their note from the treader.

Combining technique and a few variations from the original, we evolve our own 1930 Summer evening frocks. If you will be classic, white chiffon is a perfect compliment to the statuesque type of woman. Satin, taffeta, crepe roma, faille and faconne crepe are very good at this time and are draped and cut in the most engaging modern manner.

One outstanding frock in white crepe roma uses a bolero to indicating a high waistline above an interesting draped and knotted hip yoke with a skirt falling in straight folds. Another of the same fabric, and also in white flaunts a pert bolero similarly cut and topping a knotted belt, worn high while a Greek key design is embroidered on the bolero, and low on the skirt, where it unloosens itself in unstudied fullness.

Supple white taffeta, draped in an important upward and forward movement radiating from the waistline and held in front by a bow introduces new lines in that fabric which heretofore was strictly bouffant. The skirt maintains strikingly long slender lines.

A flaring peplum is the interesting appendage of another creation in white taffeta with long full skirt.

Simplicity is the keynote of still another disciple of white in semi-sheer crepe. The use of bands on the bodice to repeat a similar seaming of the skirt gives an unbroken line that makes for slim-ness. The skirt, which is of in-step length and most suitable for dancing, has four godets, that give circular fullness and a slightly uneven line.

Winsome Marilyn Miller, First National star, selects this white taffeta evening gown for Summer evenings. It is trimmed with garlands of flowers and streamers of red and white, which drop to the hem of the long circular skirt.

Very demure is Bernice Claire in this white chiffon gown worn by the star in her latest First National Vitaphone production "Mile.
Modiste." A scarf of self material which hangs from the right shoulder is an important note of this soft graceful frock, which is fitted snugly at the hips
and flares towards the bottom hanging in soft folds as it extends towards the floor.

The alluring Corinne Griffith sponsors this white pan velvet evening gown. Eyelets outlined in rhinestones about the rounded neck and tiny shoulder capes are introduced to the mode in this smart creation. A scalloped line, piped in self material, unloose the skirt which falls in voluminous graduated handkerchief folds.

Interest Prolongs Life.

Someone has been pointing to Sir Hall Caine, who has recently celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday, as another instance to justify the belief that one of the main factors in keeping a man not only fit, but alive, is the faculty of being keenly interested in life.

It is true that many of those hard working individuals, who have promised themselves, during their most strenuous times, that,
as soon as they had amassed enough money to enable them to retire, they will have a delightful time in which to enjoy the fruits of their labour, have been grievously disappointed.

Not all know that the loss of energy, the weariness and the slackness which so often set in and assume the importance of actual illness, can often be diagnosed simply as lack of interest in life.

There are people, young as well as old, to whom a consuming interest in life is a sheer necessity, if even ordinary health is to be maintained.

RETRENCHMENT.

The representative character of the personnel of the Retrenchment Commission, the comprehensive nature of the terms of reference, and the wide powers conferred upon the Commissioners should ensure a most thoroughgoing and searching inquiry into the possibility of effecting marked economies in the administration of the affairs of the Colony. Of the four Commissioners appointed, three are in no way associated with the Government, a fact which should assure an independent and disinterested investigation of the issues at stake. Of these three, one is the head of a leading business firm of the Colony; another brings to the task valuable knowledge as a director of local Companies, to say nothing of his legal acumen; whilst the third, a Chinese gentleman of independent means, besides being a barrister, is a known student of economics. A Commission so constituted, with an able Government official at its head, should possess all the requisite talent to discharge the onerous duties which it has been called upon to fulfil.

In the drawing up of the terms of reference, there has been an obvious desire to cover the whole ground. Apart from the matter of economy in the general administration of various branches of the Government service, the Committee is empowered to look into the effective employment of all staffs, the possibility of reduction of staffs either by re-distribution of work or the abandonment of unnecessary work, the possible extension of the method of temporary engagement of Government officers for particular work, and the sources from which the personnel should be supplied, together with terms of service. These headings are sufficient to enable a most rigid examination into all aspects of Government service to be carried out, whilst the status of the Commission and the powers with which it is invested make it possible for the Commissioners to obtain all the evidence it should require in pursuance of this aim. These powers enable the Commissioners to enforce the attendance of witnesses, to examine them upon oath and to compel the production of such documents as are needed. The immediate circumstances which have brought the Commission into being are well known; they relate in particular to the tremendous increase in the cost of administration caused by the decline in the sterling value of the dollar. The magnitude of the task entrusted to the Commissioners will of necessity mean a protracted inquiry, and it is conceivable that by the time its Report is issued and action taken thereon, the dollar situation may not be quite so serious as it is to-day. But that is really neither here nor there. Apart altogether from the dollar question, the impression has been created in recent years that the Government service has become very much over-loaded for a Colony of the size of Hongkong. That impression, we venture to think, will be found to be justified by the time the Commission has gone closely into the question. If, as we believe will be the case, it is found that there is scope for widespread economy without interfering with efficiency, then the public will have a right to expect a powerful wielding of the "axe," no matter whether the dollar situation has righted itself or not.

In the matter of personnel, we trust that the Commissioners will proceed on the principle of seeing that every Government servant is expected to do a full day's work, whilst on the question of duties, it is to be hoped that a keen look-out will be kept so as to detect overlapping and to see that relatively highly-paid officers are not performing routine duties which could be entrusted to juniors. From all that we hear, His Excellency the Governor fully realises the importance of economy in the Service, and this circumstance encourages the belief that if the Commission makes well-considered proposals to prevent the wastage of public money, there will be no hesitation or delay in putting its recommendations into effect.

Modern Fashions.

The arrivals of the Home mail with the London journals featuring the Ascot fashions prompts us to turn for the moment from everyday affairs into a realm which we approach with no little diffidence. If it is necessary to defend ourselves for daring to discuss modern feminine fashions, then we plead that the reserve which deference and prudence alike dictate on ordinary occasions has been broken down by the fate which fell upon the new long dresses in all their glory and also others which show their wearers scampering through the rain, drenched through to the skin, struggling with clings, rain-soaked garments across the lawns. The delicate and decidedly ample draperies became as rags and their wearers were forced to hold up their apparel as in the days of old in order to make any sort of progress. Would the ordeal have been as severe if the shorter skirted fashion of earlier years had obtained? We think not and would favour the suggestion that the destructive thunderstorm at Ascot was a manifestation of Jovian displeasure at the re-introduction of the long skirt and the wide brimmed hat. The London newspapers have not been slow to illustrate the comparisons and their pictorial pages enable the man in the street to answer for himself the pertinent question whether the fashions of this year are as attractive or more becoming than those of a year or so ago. Ascot fashions over a period of twenty years provide much of interest. It is found that those of 1910, 1923 and the present year are almost indistinguishable, while those of the intervening years, and especially of 1926, afford the most violent contrast. If we are compelled to take sides, then we prefer, with due caution befitting our limitations, to take the side of the fashions which have given a freedom never known before. Adopting this view we find consolation in the fact that the new fashions have not been generally adopted by the masses and we pin great faith to the truism of a learned clergyman who sagely declared that "Long dresses make women look older." That, we consider, to be one of the most telling thrusts of all and we imagine that it will cause the pendulum to swing once more in the opposite direction.

DAY BY DAY.

The P. and O. s.s. Rajputana, from Singapore, is due here at 7 a.m. on Thursday.

Miss S. A. Massey and Miss V. D. Phillips are joining the Hongkong Civil Service as Nursing Sisters.

We learn that the whereabouts of Mr. E. Larmour, of the P.W.D., who had been missing since Monday last, have been traced, and that he has been staying with a friend in the Colony for some days past.

Two men and a woman, who were charged before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning with kidnapping a boy from Yee Kuk Street, Shamshui, were remanded for 48 hours for further enquiries.

Sentence of three months' hard labour was imposed on a Chinese who appeared before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning on a charge of receiving a purse, containing about $11, which had been stolen from a man in Kowloon City.

On a charge of returning from banishment, a Chinese woman who appeared before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, was sentenced to eight months' imprisonment. The defendant was deported in September 1924 for a period of ten years.

The coxswain of steam-launch Tony On pleaded guilty at the Marine Court this morning, when he was summoned before the Hon. Commr. G. F. Hole, with leaving the harbour without a clearance at a prohibited hour. His Worship.—Any previous convictions? Sub-Inspector Munro.—He has a clean record, your Worship. His Worship.—$25 or three weeks.

Nicola still continues to draw large houses at the Star Theatre, Kowloon, where his performances succeed in mystifying everybody. His week-end programmes were greatly enjoyed, and the kiddies in particular found Saturday's matinee most entertaining. Those who have not seen this master magician and his clever Company should make a point of visiting the Star before the season ends.

CHOPPER ASSAULT.

STONEBREAKER SENT TO PRISON.

An assault with a chopper was described to Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, when a stonebreaker employed by Lam Woo, contractor, was charged with cutting and wounding another workman of the same firm.

According to Sergeant Slater, the two men were engaged in carrying stones from the hillside to the Kowloon Dock where the construction of the new dock. The complainant was stated to have given the defendant $4 to be remitted to the country, but the defendant had only sent $2. A quarrel ensued and later the defendant went into a kitchen of a matched, followed by the complainant.

The defendant then picked up a chopper and inflicted a nasty wound to the complainant's left shoulder. He was taken to hospital and three stitches were put into his arm.

His Worship pointed out the seriousness of the defendant's actions, and passed sentence of six weeks' hard labour.

PARTIES IN FIGHT BOUND OVER.

VAGUE STORY OF ATTACK IN KOWLOON.

An allegation of being assaulted with a hammer was not fully substantiated when a Chinese accused two men before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, one of the defendants being a seaman attached to the Water Police Station.

Mr. F. X. d'Almada, jr. appeared for the two defendants, and admitted, on behalf of the first accused, the charge of assault, but denied the count on behalf of the seaman.

In evidence, the complainant said that he was walking in Parkes Street on July 6 last when, for no reason whatsoever, he was set upon by the two defendants and another man. The witness gave contradictory evidence as to where the first defendant had obtained the hammer with which he had been assaulted. His evidence also contained discrepancies as to where the men had been standing when he first saw them.

The defence suggested as a reason for the assault that the complainant had collided with the defendant and words led to a fight among them. This was denied by the complainant.

After hearing further evidence, His Worship said that there had been a fight of some sort and bound all parties over, including one of the complainant's witnesses.

WOMAN JUMPS OFF FERRY BOAT.

PROMPTLY RESCUED BY A SEAMAN.

A woman passenger on the Yau-mat ferry boat Man Lai threw herself from the launch while crossing over to Hongkong yesterday. A prompt rescue by a seaman averted what might have been a tragedy, the would-be suicide being taken back to the launch and later taken ashore to the Government Civil Hospital. It was learned that the woman, whose name is Wan Yuk-lin, lives at No. 12 Russell Street, Wanchai. Domestic troubles are believed to have led to suicidal intent on her part.

The Very Idea!

Little Mary Jane and her next-door neighbour Billy were engaged in an absorbing conversation. "What are anarchists?" asked little Mary Jane.

"Then Billy swelled with wisdom. 'They want everything anyone else has got, and they never wash themselves,' he replied. 'Oh, yes!' cried little Mary Jane, with enthusiasm. 'I see—they just little boys grew up!'"

Golfer—"Terrible links, caddy, terrible!" Caddy—"Sorry, sir, these ain't links—you got off them an hour ago."

Old Salt—"So you want me to spin a yarn, boy?" Boys—"Yes, a true one." Old Salt—"Right, I'll tell you about the time when I was eaten by cannibals."

American Judge (after the trial)—"What possible excuse did you fellows have for acquitting that murderer?" Jurymen—"Insanity."

Judge—"What the whole twelve of you?"

"They're off!" "Don't be a fool; the last race has just finished."

"I know. I mean the welshers."

Cook—"If you please, ma'am, may I entertain my fance in the kitchen this evening?"

Mistress—"But I thought you broke it off with him last night, Mary?"

"So I did, ma'am; but, naturally, I gave him a month's notice."

"What are ye thinkin' about, Rab?" inquired Rab's wife.

"Och, Janet," he replied, "I was jist wonderin' what tat pit on the gravestone when ye're dead."

"Dinna ye bother yer head about that, Rab," said Janet. "Jist ye pit on it, 'Wife of the above.'"

WATER LEVELS.

ON WEST, NORTH AND EAST RIVERS.

The following table, issued by the Kwangtung River Conservancy Commission, shows in English feet the water levels on the West River, North River and East River, on the dates named:

	July 12	July 13
Shiuhing	6.0	5.5
Tsingyuen	3.3	2.6
Samshui	1.0	1.2
Sheklung	3.0	1.2

The highest levels on record are:—Shiuhing, 41 feet; Tsingyuen, 29.2 feet; Samshui, 27.5 feet; Sheklung 15.5 feet.

The lowest level on record at Samshui is minus 5 feet and at Sheklung minus 2.7 feet.

The trial on a charge of homicide of the Lyons waterworks accused of being responsible for the typhoid fever epidemic of 1923 ended with the sentencing of the manager to a year's imprisonment with benefit of the First Offenders Act and 500 francs fine. The other defendants were absolved of responsibility and acquitted. Damages varying from 1,000 to 50,000 francs were awarded to the relatives of the victims.

WHO WAS?

Jonathan Wild.

For cold, calculating villainy, without a single redeeming feature, Jonathan Wild would be impossible to beat.

Wild was the leader of a gang of criminals whose activities varied from petty pilfering to murder with violence. He was utterly destitute of any scruples; even "honour among thieves" had no meaning for him. When a coup had come off he would betray to the authorities those members of his gang for whom he had no further use. Not only did he never forgive an enemy, but he never helped a friend; indeed, no kind action was ever attributed to him. In addition, he was boastful and hypocritical, aping in public the possession of all the virtues. Each of his accomplices one ventures to think, must have found death something in the nature of a sweet release from their cruel and tyrannical husband.

This master-criminal escaped the clutches of the law until he had reached the age of forty-three, but in 1725 he paid the penalty of his misdeeds at Tyburn. Defoe and Fielding have made him the subject of novels; a little fanciful in detail and incident, but not unjust in their general conception of the "hero's" character.

IMPROPER USE OF SAMPAN.*USED TO CONVEY GIRLS TO SHIPS IN HARBOUR.*POLICE CAPTURES.

The master and mistress of two passenger boats appeared at the Marine Court this morning before the Hon. Commr. G. F. Hole, on the charge of using their boats for the conveyance of women in the harbour for the purpose of prostitution.

Both defendants denied the charge.

Sgt. Oliver, who prosecuted, testified that at about 8 p.m. on July 12, he was on patrol in the Northern Fairway when he stopped the man's sampan on board which he found seven girls, who appeared to him to be prostitutes.

In answer to his enquiries, they informed him that they were going to visit the compradore of the s.s. Hoi Ping. Witness then took the girls and the master of the sampan on board his police launch and went to several ships lying in the Northern Anchorage, but found no ship of that name.

After further questioning, the girls then admitted they were ham sui mui's, which, witness said, meant "prostitutes" in Chinese.

Found in Hold.

With regard to the other defendant, witness said he stopped her sampan at about 8.15 p.m. on the same day when she was leaving at a Dutch steamer, which was lying at the Northern Anchorage. He boarded her and found two girls hiding in the hold, covered with a blanket. They were not visible to him at first, but he took off the hatch and found them in the hold.

These girls, continued witness, admitted that they were prostitutes when questioned, and stated that they were told to hide in the hold by the mistress of the boat when the Police launch went alongside the sampan.

Sgt. Headridge, who was on duty together with Sgt. Oliver at the time, corroborated the evidence already given. He differed from Sgt. Oliver in saying that the name of the ship given by the girls in the first case was Hoi On.

His Worship:—It was Hoi Ping, according to the last witness.

Sgt. Oliver:—It was either the Hoi Ping or the Hoi On, your Worship. It was apparently a fictitious name.

Defendant's Story.

The first defendant (the man) stated that the girls hired his sampan at Yau-mai to take them out to a steamer at 10 cents per head. He was told that they were on a visit to the compradore of the s.s. On Hoi, which, he said, had been lying at Stonecutters for a long time. He denied that he knew they were prostitutes but admitted that he did not make any enquiries.

His Worship:—Did it not seem queer to you when they said they were visiting the compradore of a ship that seven girls should visit one man?

Defendant:—I thought one of them was visiting the compradore and the other six were her friends.

His Worship:—I don't believe it is quite as simple as that.

The second defendant informed his Worship that she took a passenger to a British steamer and whilst returning she was hailed by somebody on a Dutch steamer. She accordingly went alongside and two girls then boarded her boat. She had no idea that they were prostitutes and denied that she instructed them to hide in the hold, averring that they did so on their own initiative.

One Discharged.

His Worship remarked that according to the Ordinance, "no vessel shall be used for the conveyance of women within the limits of the harbour for the purpose of prostitution," which, he took it, meant conveying women from shore to steamer, or from steamer to steamer.

In the second case, it was admitted by the prosecution that the girls were taken from steamer to shore but there was no evidence whatever that they were conveyed from steamer to steamer.

Under the circumstances, his Worship thought he could not convict the second defendant, who was accordingly discharged.

The first defendant was found guilty and fined $50, with the alternative of six weeks' hard labour.

A resolution was carried at Oxford Diocesan Conference that when a census is next taken in England, there should be a column on the form wherein people might state their religious views, if any. The Rev. C. E. M. Fry, the proposer, suggested that the Bishop of Oxford be requested to bring the matter before the proper authorities. The information, he said, would make it easier to bring definite religious teaching into secondary schools as well as elementary schools.

DYNAMITE STORE WATCHMEN.*LOCAL COMPANY FINED FOR NOT PROVIDING.*CHANGE OF PLEA.

Before Mr. Lindell, at the Central Magistracy, this morning, Sub-Inspector Shaftain summoned the Hongkong Excavation, Pile Driving and Construction Company for breach of a regulation of their dynamite storing licence, by failing to have a guard at their No. 11 magazine at Aberdeen.

Explaining the facts, the Sub-Inspector stated that Mr. Shanks, who was appearing for the Company, wished to withdraw his plea of "Not Guilty" which he had tendered last time the case came up and to plead guilty.

The facts were, as far as the dynamite licence was concerned, the applicant, after he had satisfied the authorities that the magazine was for the storage of dynamite, had to submit the names of two watchmen whom the police had to approve of. The watchmen's photographs were taken and kept in a register, and if these two watchmen were dismissed, the licensee must notify the authorities so that they might be replaced.

On this particular occasion, Mr. Shanks had some trouble with the contractor and dismissed him and eight men, including the two watchmen. That was on May 23rd. On June 8th, Mr. Shanks reported that the whole of the stock, which included 795 sticks of dynamite, had been stolen. Enquiries were made and it was found that there had been no watchmen on duty. The loss occurred between June 7th and June 8th.

The Magistrate:—Was the magazine locked up?

Witness:—Yes. The door was found to have been forced open.

Mr. Shanks said that in making his original plea of "Not Guilty," which he now withdrew, he was under the impression that, as the Government had asked for the dismissal of the contractor which resulted in the stoppage of work, two Indian watchmen, who were employed in another capacity, would be sufficient, but now that he had seen the Ordinance, which required two special watchmen, he changed his plea.

The Magistrate:—It appears that your two Indian watchmen failed in their duty?

Witness:—Yes. I thought that they were sufficient until another contractor had been engaged and work resumed.

Sub-Inspector Shaftain:—Mr. Shanks' explanation may be logical, but as far as we are concerned, there must be two separate watchmen, and one of them must be on duty at all times. They must prevent the dynamite from being stolen.

The Magistrate:—In view of the exceptional circumstances of the case, I impose a fine of $25.

Pacific ocean except to defend Manila, Senator Swanson asserted. According to Senator Swanson, the London Naval Treaty of 1930 cost $1,000,000,000. But, he said it would have cost $2,000,000,000 to maintain the naval ratios contemplated by the powers without the treaty.

Stimson Criticised. Washington, July 9. With barely a quorum present on the senate floor but with the galleries well filled Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson to-day was subjected to hot fire as, for the third day in extraordinary session, the senate debated the London Naval Treaty of 1930.

Senator Hugo L. Black, Democrat of Alabama, likened the attitude of Secretary Stimson to the policies of Alexander Hamilton.

"Secretary Stimson apparently is attempting to set himself up as a one man government," said Senator Black.

For the third successive day Mrs. Stimson sat in the senate galleries and, untroubled, listened to the senators scathingly attack her husband.

Treaty Defended. Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, minority floor leader and a member of the American delegation to the London conference, defended the naval treaty. He minimized the importance of the secret documents connected with the London negotiation which Secretary Stimson, acting under instructions from President Hoover, has refused to deliver to the Senate.

Senator Robinson intimated that most of the correspondence was between the American Embassy in London and the Department of State in Washington. He further intimated that some of the secret documents were concerned with political conditions in some of the world capitals during the conference.

SEVEN YEARS AND A BIRCHING.*MAN'S SENTENCE FOR ATTACK ON A WOMAN.*WOUNDING CHARGE.

That it might be a lesson to the accused and to other men of the seriousness of the consequences of committing such a serious crime, said Mr. Justice Wood at the Criminal Sessions this morning, he sentenced Ho Yung, charged with wounding and causing grievous bodily harm to Yim Chi, to seven years' hard labour and 24 strokes of the birch.

Mr. Somerset Fitzroy said accused went to where the woman lived at 116, Tainan Street on May 12, at a time when she was alone. Other people were living in the house, but except for two women, they were all out. These he sent out on a wild goose chase to collect money from people, and then proceeded to assault the woman with a chopper, cutting her about the body and head, apparently with the object of robbery.

The woman was ill at the time, and he asked her to hand over her rattle bangles. She replied that they were in the trunk and whilst she was obtaining the keys to open the box, he struck her with the chopper, and said that he not only intended to have her money (between $300 and $400), but that he was going to kill her.

He struck her a glancing blow on the skull, which although not causing a fracture, tore away some flesh. He then became alarmed and ran away. The woman had to receive attention at the hospital.

Accused, in pleading guilty, said he had nothing to say. She owed him money and he went there to ask her for it. She refused to pay him and whilst he was trying to take her to the police station she struck him.

His Lordship said that he had before him the evidence of Dr. Smalley, given before the Police Magistrate, in which he said the woman suffered from five wounds. He also stated that it was very fortunate that she was not killed. The accused was therefore, added His Lordship, very fortunate in that he was not standing before the Court on a capital charge.

In reply to His Lordship, accused said he had been in the Colony eleven years. He was 26 years of age and a rattle chair maker.

The woman, who was in the court holding a newly born baby in her arms, said she had known accused for ten years.

The man was convicted on the first count, which his Lordship described as a most serious crime. He would be sentenced to seven years' hard labour and 24 strokes of the birch, that it might be a lesson to him and to other men, of the seriousness of the consequences of such a crime.

Mr. George Ernest Villiers was killed and Mr. Henry Winch, of the Scots Guards, suffered a broken leg when their aeroplane crashed in a field near Hendon aerodrome. It narrowly missed a girl who was sitting in the field doing needlework. An eye-witness said that the plane was about 200ft. up, coming from the direction of the aerodrome, when it stalled, nosedived and crashed. The dead airman was a son of the Hon. Mr. Ernest Villiers of Homington House, Salisbury, while Mr. Winch is a son of Lady Newborough.

Mymensingh, July 13. Nine Hindus were killed in communal rioting with Moham-medans yesterday when a number of houses were looted in the Kishoregan Division. Extensive looting and incendiarism continue despite firing by the police. One police officer was injured. Twenty-five Frontier Rifles arrived last night and another body is coming on later.—Reuter.

Simla, July 12. The Government have been defeated in the Legislative Assembly by a vote of 60 to 48 on a Nationalist amendment reducing, by a hundred rupees, the supplementary grant to cover the expenses of the Round Table Conference.

The mover of the amendment was a member of the Central Muslim party, who declared that the recommendations of the Simon report were inadequate and unsatisfactory.

The rest of the Round Table grant was voted without division.—Reuter.

Idea Abandoned.

Bombay, July 12. The National Congress "Militia" have abandoned the idea of demonstrating and withdrew after lathi charges by the Police, in which 300 were injured, ten seriously. A hundred volunteers were taken to the Congress hospital. The military and Police withdrew later from the Maidan.—Reuter.

The Simon Report.

London, July 12. Viscount Bournemouth, who was a member of the Indian Statutory Commission, has given notice that he will ask the Government in the House of Lords next Wednesday, whether, having regard to Lord Irwin's statement at Simla on July 9, the report of the Indian Statutory Commission will form the main subject of consideration and discussion at the Round Table Conference, which is to assemble here in November next.

This will be the first debate to be held in Parliament since the Viceroy's recent declaration. The Prime Minister, in the House of Commons on Monday, will be asked whether he proposes to give the Commons an opportunity of discussion of the political situation in India before House rises at the end of July for the summer recess.—British Wireless.

ALLEGED FORGED BANKNOTE.*CHARGE OF UTTERING AT THE CRIMINAL SESSIONS.*CHANGED AT HOTEL.

An alleged forged $100 bank note, which Mr. Fitzroy said was a very good imitation of the genuine article, figured in a case at the Criminal Sessions this morning before Mr. Justice Wood, when Wong Kam appeared in the dock to answer two counts.

The first count is that with intent to defraud he uttered the note, purporting to be a banknote of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, at the Kum Toi Hotel, Nathan Road, on May 17, knowing the note to be forged. There is a second count of obtaining the sum of $70 from Tam Kwai, accountant at the hotel, by means of the note.

Accused denied both counts.

In setting forward the case for the Crown, Mr. Fitzroy, pointed out to the jury that they had to be satisfied that accused knew the note was a forgery before they could convict. It appeared that the note came into accused's possession on about May 13, 1930, and he took it to the hotel where he engaged a room. Apparently the accountant had not enough change so he gave $70 to accused who did not sleep in the room that night. He went to Hongkong and took a room at the Tung Fung boarding house where he stayed the night.

On the following day he returned to the hotel where he received the balance of his change, $20.40. He went away but again returned the next day. In the meantime the note had been taken to the bank and found to be forged so that when accused went to the hotel he was approached by the accountant.

When asked about the note, he said he had been given the note by a friend and told to engage a room for him at the Kum Toi Hotel. Accused was unable to find his friend, however, with the result that he was arrested.

When charged, accused said that he did not know the note was forged, and asked "if I had known would I have gone back to the hotel?" When charged with uttering the note, accused stated "the note was given to me by An Lung to pay the rent for the room. I did not know it was forged."

The case is proceeding.

self-evident, and that was that the line must be drawn somewhere. So far as he was aware from legal decisions the line had not been drawn clearly and definitely, and that was one of the difficulties from the prosecution's point of view.

It was self-evident that the line must be drawn somewhere. The whole legislation of the colony on the question of lotteries became mere nonsense and perfectly useless if non-members of the Turf Club or any Chinese club got tickets as freely as they liked to apply for them, if it was sufficient to say afterwards, when a prosecution was brought, "We got them as friends."

Magistrate's Finding. Giving judgment, Mr. Williams said: This seems to me to be a simple matter. It is entirely a question whether it is a public lottery or a private one. You know quite well that a public lottery is a lottery to which the public or any section of the public are admitted. The only witness who has given the slightest suggestion of this is the Jewish witness. He cannot be called a member of the public because his relations with the accused, unfortunately from the point of view of the police, are shown to have run for some time, he had some dealing with him, was to some extent indebted to him, and it was also shown that to get his ticket he had to go on his knees. That is a picturesque detail, but it indicates, at any rate, that the accused was not at all ready to give him it. The inference the court must draw from the fact of this witness being used is that the police thought he was the most likely man to get a ticket. I suggest that if they had taken a newly-joined detective he would not have stood the slightest chance of getting a ticket. I think I am bound to draw the inference that he was considered the most likely man. Whether it is correct or incorrect, it is the obvious one to me. I must hold that this is a private lottery and not a public one, and that it does not come by any possible means within the wording of the Ordinance. The only person who has given me any difficulty is this witness Rahamin, but I cannot say that because he got a ticket, that any member of the public or section of this public could have got a ticket also. I therefore propose to acquit the accused.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

ENGLAND A LONG WAY BEHIND.

FIVE WICKETS DOWN FOR ONLY 212 RUNS.

FEATURES OF TEST.

At the end of the second day's play in the Test Match at Leeds, England found themselves 354 runs behind Australia with five wickets in hand. England scored slowly and with only two more days left to play there seems to be every possibility of a draw.

When the match was resumed on Saturday morning, says Reuter, huge crowds scrambled into the enclosure at Leeds to see Don Bradman, who with the last ball on Friday completed his 2,000 runs for the present season in England. He had not survived for long, before Duckworth took a fine catch wide on the leg side. McCabe, his partner, the outgoing batsman was, however, the first to go, retiring with the score standing at 491 runs for four wickets, his own contribution being a valuable 30.

Richardson joined Bradman but the vice-captain presented square leg with an easy catch after only three more runs had been added to the score. Bradman continued to carry his individual score to 334 runs when he was unable to turn a ball from Tate and snicked the sphere into the hands of Duckworth with the score standing at 508.334. During his amazing innings, in which several records were broken; Bradman reached the boundary on 46 occasions.

The Collapse.

Oldfield was deputed to fill the vacancy after Bradman had left. When the score had reached 513 runs, Hobbs running in from cover point held a catch that dismissed the wicket-keeper for two runs. Grimmett was next in and scored two successive sixes off Tyldesley. A Beckett lifted Geary to mid-off and was taken by Chapman after he had made 29, the board showing 514 runs for eight wickets. Wall joined Grimmett, but was beaten by a leg break from Tyldesley with the score at 565. Grimmett fell a victim to Tyldesley, being caught behind the wickets when he had made 24, the innings closing just before the luncheon for a total of 566 runs.

England Bats.

Hobbs and Sutcliffe opened England's innings and had put on 17 runs between them when the game was adjourned for lunch. Hobbs had eleven to his credit and Sutcliffe six. Grimmett's googlies and Hornibrook's swingers tied up the English batsmen. Hobbs was out to a brilliant catch at forward short leg, a Beckett turning a somersault in holding the ball. The first wicket fell with the score at 53, of which Hobbs had made 29. Sutcliffe, when batting in his best style, gave a "dolly" catch to first slip and retired after scoring 32, the total being 84. Hammond and Dulepsinji were now together and after taking the score to 123 runs the young Indian hit outside a good length in-swinging and was clean bowled. He made most of his 35 runs by square cuts and had hit five fours.

Hammond's Shaky Opening.

Hammond was playing steady cricket after a shaky start. He was partnered by Leyland after losing Dulepsinji and the pair were playing strongly when the new arrival mis-hit a ball from Wall and was caught by Kippax at third-man. The score board showed 206 runs for four wickets. He hit two sixers and three fours, the partnership yielding 83 runs in 90 minutes.

Geary was then sent in towards the end of the day, but before he had scored, he was run out by a smart return by Wall, the fifth wicket falling at the same score as the fourth. Duckworth and Hammond played out time and at the close England had made 212 runs for the loss of their five wickets. Hammond who had scored 29 by tea time, had taken his score to 61 when stumps were drawn.

According to a British Wireless message the Australians suffered their sensational collapse in the first hour of the resumption on Saturday. The weather was again fine, no rain having fallen since the match started. The wicket, however, showed signs of wear, and experts expressed doubts as to whether it would last out four days' play. When Bradman and McCabe resumed the innings for Australia play again became brisk. The full scores are appended.

V.R.C. CREW ROWS TO MACAO.

OARSMEN FAVOURED BY GOOD CONDITIONS.

Another intrepid crew of oarsmen from the Victoria Recreation Club set out for Macao yesterday morning in a "four oar" boat, the Lily, which was used on a previous occasion when five members of the Club successfully rowed to the neighbouring Colony, a distance of 45 miles, in just over ten hours.

The start on the second trip was made just after mid-night, the venture being favoured by bright moonlight, which enabled the crew to make their way through the harbour without incident. They carried two bicycle lamps, one at the bow and the other at the stern, to make their presence known to other craft.

The crew consisted of:
Cox. F. M. da Silva.
Stroke, Luiz A. de V. Soares.
No. 3, B. Gosano.
No. 2, Hector M. Remedios.
No. 1, Satory de Souza.

It will be recalled that Remedios and Souza were to have been in the crew which made the first attempt on June 8, but at the last minute were prevented from going, their places being taken by others. A cable received locally intimated that the venture was a "point to point success." The rowers had a strong tide to contend with, and did not actually reach Macao until 2 p.m. yesterday, about the same time as the previous crew arrived, although the present oarsmen left four hours earlier.

A Test of Stamina.

A contributor has kindly supplied the following additional notes: In view of the very arduous nature of the task, a special programme was planned. The young men had a meal at 8 p.m. on Saturday, and then a rest preparatory to the start. They carried a watch, two searchlights, a pocket compass, and a route chart, drafted from an old Admiralty chart by Soares, on which the distances and possible times of arrival were plotted. As provender they took two tins of Nestle's cream milk, each man also having two selected Macao bananas, and some Nestle's milk chocolate; besides having a quart of drinking water each. The heat endured in the sun, from 6 a.m. onwards, must have been terrific, and their success speaks well for their stamina. The crew return to-day by the morning steamer from Macao bringing their boat back with them.

CINEMA NOTES.

FASHION SHOW IN THE FOX FOLLIES.

A beautiful array of gowns is displayed in the William Fox Movietone Follies of 1929, which is to be shown on Wednesday at the Queen's Theatre.

One number serves to introduce Miss Dixie Lee, until recently featured in the Broadway production of "Good News," in which she danced and sang the "Varsity Drag." The Fox Follies number she sings is "Why Can't I Be Like You?" Strolling down Fifth Avenue, she is struck by a marvellous display of gown on models in a modiste's window. She stops to inspect them, wondering why she never can get clothes like those she sees in the window. She sings, "Why Can't I Be Like You?" based on this theme, and is astounded when the models come to life and parade for her inspection.

The song was written by Con. Conrad, Sidney D. Mitchell and Archie Gottler, who also staged the number, assisting the revue director, Marcel Silver.

The show girls who serve as models are Youda Hay, Sue Rainey, Lucile Jacques, Iris Ashton, Katherine Irving, Lita Cheyret, Melva Cornell, Dorothy Cecil, Mildred Myrnie, Sugar Adair, Betty Becklaw and Marie Cooper.

The Follies were directed by David Butler, who also provided the story. William K. Wells supplied the dialogue. Sue Carol, Sharon Lynn and Lola Lane are other girl principals. In all, there are two hundred performers.

"Roadhouse Nights."

The Paramount picture, "Roadhouse Nights," now showing at the Central Theatre, would perhaps better be named "A Roadhouse Night's Entertainment," for that is just what it is.

This film provides amusement from start to finish. It is essentially a comedy-thriller—the thrills and laughs follow each other so swiftly that it is impossible to determine where the one ends and the

HIKAWA MARU.

ANOTHER NEW N.Y.K. VESSEL IN PORT.

Saturday saw the arrival of yet another new Japanese motor ship in port, this being the Hikawa Maru, also of the N.Y.K. fleet. She is the first of three new 12,000 ton motor-liners for this Company's Seattle run and has just completed her maiden voyage. The other two vessels, the Hiya Maru and Helan Maru, are being equipped, and will be ready in August and December respectively.

The Hikawa Maru left Seattle on June 17 for the Far East and sailed from Shanghai for this port on July 9, bringing in with her 1,170 tons of general cargo for Hongkong but none for through ports.

She is under the command of Capt. Akioyoshi, a popular master of the N.Y.K. fleet, with a crew of 152 Japanese officers and men.

The Hikawa Maru, like her sister-ships, is a twin-screw vessel having a gross tonnage of 11,600 tons, a net tonnage of 6,787 tons and a displacement of 20,500 tons. She is equipped with two sets of double-acting, Burmeister and Wain Diesel engines, capable of maintaining an average sea speed of 18 knots. The principal dimensions are:—length (overall) 536 feet; beam 66 feet; and depth 41 feet.

As the new liner was planned and constructed as an absolutely up-to-date passenger carrier, all the latest appliances in machinery for securing speed as well as the safety of the ship are included in its equipment. In addition to the beautifully furnished comfortable public rooms usually found on modern passenger ships, it has both class-enclosed and open promenade decks. A nursery for children and a dark room for amateur photographers are also on the ship.

The special feature of the Hikawa Maru, as well as her sister ships, is that they are the first Cabin Ships ever built for the trans-Pacific traffic, with accommodation for both Cabin and Tourist Cabin classes, thereby offering the opportunity for trans-Pacific passengers to travel at low rates with the least sacrifice of comfort.

The new liner's capacity for cargo is about 10,000 deadweight tons, while her space capacity is about 9,000 tons. Her six holds and 'tween decks are reserved for 8,500 tons of general cargo. Besides, she is equipped with a treasure-room and a specially constructed silk-room and has the space for 750 tons of bulk oil and five separate stores for refrigerated cargo of about 200 tons.

Besides her passenger functions, the new liner is designed to carry considerable quantities of cargo and the arrangements for working cargo form an important part of her equipment.

FAMOUS RAILWAY CENTENARY.

LIVERPOOL CELEBRATIONS IN SEPTEMBER.

TRAGEDY RECALLED.

London, July 13.
The centenary of the opening of the Liverpool and Manchester Railway, which was the world's first successful commercial locomotive railway in the modern sense of the term, will be celebrated at Liverpool in September, and arrangements have been made to make the celebrations worthy of the unique occasion.

Although during its trial runs in 1825 the speed attained by the train drawn by the steam engine "Rocket" did not reach eighteen miles an hour when running light, within one week of the inauguration of the service it was travelling at thirty miles hourly over the Liverpool-Manchester track.

In connexion with the September celebrations, which are being organised by the City of Liverpool and Manchester, with the co-operation of the British Railways, a pageant depicting the evolution of transport will be performed in which five thousand men will take part.—British Wireless.

The opening of the Liverpool and Manchester Railway, on September 16th, 1825, was marked by a tragedy when Mr. William Huskisson, who was Colonial Secretary and leader of the House of Commons, was run over by the engine and died in great agony on the same day. The line was famous for the crossing of Chat Moss, over which a floating bridge had been built.

The famous Rainhill trials were held in the previous year, to decide whether stationary engines should be employed on the line. The "Rocket" was the winner, and so locomotives were decided upon.

MUCH-SENTENCED BANISHEE.

IMPRISONED SIX TIMES FOR RETURNING.

GETS THREE YEARS.

Six times sentenced for returning from banishment in defiance of two deportation orders, together with other convictions for larceny and as a roving vagabond, was the record admitted by Li Sing, alias Li Fok-kwan, who pleaded guilty to a charge of committing a burglary and larceny of goods, clothing and money, and returning from banishment on June 27, 1930 before Mr. Justice Wood at the Criminal Sessions this morning.

On the first indictment of stealing, accused was sentenced to six months' hard labour, and for returning to the Colony, three years' hard labour, the sentences to run concurrently.

In submitting the man's record, Mr. Somerset Fitzroy said that he was given four weeks' hard labour on July 8, 1924, for stealing, and on December 6, 1924, three months' hard labour for conviction as a roving vagabond. A further two months were served in March, 1925, for stealing, and on April 20, 1925, he was sentenced to 18 months' hard labour under a deportation order. He was, in all, six times banished under two deportation orders. His most recent conviction in this respect was August 6, 1929, and his last criminal conviction was 14 days for stealing in 1927. His last sentence for returning from banishment was twelve months' hard labour and 24 strokes.

The accused told his Lordship that his intention in coming to Hongkong was to see his aunt, but he could not find her. He was passing along Wing Lok Street when he saw the house, where he knew he could steal something, and in the cause of covetousness, he went in. He knew he had done wrong, but he was very hard up and he intended to go back to China. He did not intend to remain in Hongkong and give his Lordship so much trouble.

EGYPTIAN MINISTER TO LONDON.

FORMER FOREIGN MINISTER APPOINTED.

Cairo, July 13.
Hafezaf, Pasha, the Foreign Minister, has been appointed Egyptian Minister to London. Abdel Fattah becomes Foreign Minister in his place.

The Premier, Sidky Pasha, interviewed by Reuter, said it was not the immediate aim of the new Minister to resume the interrupted Anglo-Egyptian negotiations, but the Government would doubtless choose the earliest opportunity for their resumption.

A Royal Decree has been issued adjourning Parliament for three weeks.—Reuter.

"BAD MAN" FOUND NOT GUILTY.

ACQUITTED BY JURY
AT SESSIONS.

ADMITS HAVING COMMITTED
CRIME BEFORE.

DENIES A THEFT.

"I am a bad man, my Lord. I have been convicted several times and when I was arrested I had no other alternative but to confess," said Ho Yan at the Criminal Sessions this morning before Mr. Justice Wood, when charged with theft. Accused was charged with stealing two jackets, a pair of trousers, and a piece of cloth at Aberdeen, the property of Fong Ching-ye.

His Lordship reminded accused that he had denied the charge before the Police Magistrate and accused then said that he did not steal the articles.

His Lordship directed that a plea of "not guilty" be entered and the evidence heard.

Mr. Somerset Fitzroy, for the Crown, explained that the complainant was asleep in her cubicle on the morning of July 3, this year, when she woke up at about 3 a.m. and saw a man in her cubicle. She raised an alarm and the intruder jumped out of a window but was arrested shortly afterwards in a lane by the house with the stolen articles near him. Complainant could not identify accused and did not know who he was.

Denied the Theft.

Counsel added that certain questions were put to accused at the time and from his answers it could be inferred that he had stolen the articles. When charged at the Police Station, however, accused said he had nothing to say, and when before the Magistrate he denied the theft.

Complainant gave evidence and said there was an old lady in the next cubicle who heard her cry and she was so frightened she fell out of bed. When she (complainant) went outside, the stolen articles were handed to her by a blacksmith-living next door.

Chan Yung, who described himself as a reaper of silk worms, stated that he came to Hongkong to visit a friend in the Police Force, stationed at Aberdeen. On the night in question he went on patrol with the policeman and at about 1 a.m. the policeman went to patrol at Apichau while he (witness) walked about Aberdeen, having been told to do so by his friend.

His Lordship:—You were a volunteer policeman, were you?—Yes.

Witness continued that at about 3 a.m. he heard shouts and saw a crowd of people. He joined the crowd and saw accused being held by another man.

When told he could ask witness questions if he wished, accused said "I have committed crime before, so there is no need for me to ask any questions."

Prisoner's Fatalism.

The blacksmith said that he saw accused squatting in the lane, with the clothing near him and suspected him. When arrested, accused did not resist or run away.

Mr. Fitzroy read out accused's statement to the Magistrate as follows:—"I was beaten until I admitted my guilt. Over ten men set upon me. Having once admitted I could not retreat. In fact I did not steal the things."

Speaking from the dock, accused said he had nothing to say. He continued that since he had violated the law before, to confess or not to confess would come to the same thing.

After a brief retirement, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and accused was discharged on that count.

There is another count of returning from banishment but this will be dealt with later.

CHINESE COMMITS SUICIDE.

JUMPS OVERBOARD FROM
"FATSHAN"

The arrival of the s.s. Fatshan, from Canton, last night, was delayed for a few minutes as the result of a Chinese passenger committing suicide by jumping overboard while the vessel was on her way here.

It appears that when the Fatshan was in the vicinity of Sampan Chau, at about 7.50 p.m. yesterday, a man jumped through the port-hole in the native lavatory. When the alarm was raised, almost

KWANGSI SITUATION.

Wuchow, July 10.
Troops of the 59th Division have been pouring into Wuchow, on their way to Kweiping all this week and Kwangsi is evidently again to become the scene of another campaign. From reports to hand the coming campaign will be far more complicated than the last one when the Kwangsi army successfully resisted for six months all the efforts of the Cantonese to subjugate them.

Now, after an unsuccessful northern campaign, the Kwangsi army and the Ironsides are reported to be heading for South China. However, if the Cantonese again come to grips with the Kwangsi forces there will be another factor to contend with. Reliable information is to the effect that Longchow and Poseh are in the hands of the Yunnanese and that they have a million or so dollars from opium, an asset which might have more influence than their military strength.

Which side the Yunnanese will assist is not known. Theoretically they have come at Chiang Kai-shek's request, but the Kwangsi party has been negotiating for their assistance. Another factor is that Li Ming-sui and his "Red" followers are reported to be near Nanning. The situation is highly complicated but there is just the possibility that the parties will not come to grips.

A letter sent from Poseh on June 26 gives the information that "Reds" had entered the town and looted it. The letter states that the writer's personal property there had been taken and the Mission buildings considerably damaged by the attackers who deliberately smashed doors, windows and benches. If it is true that Poseh is in the hands of the Yunnanese, then the time spent by the "Reds" there was probably comparatively brief.—Our Own Correspondent.

PANGALOS AGAIN SENTENCED.

TWO YEARS' IMPRISONMENT
FOR EX-DICTATOR.

CLOTH TRANSACTIONS.

Athens, July 13.
The Special Commission trying the ex-Dictator, General Pangalos, sentenced him to two years' imprisonment for transactions in connexion with the supply of cloth to the Army.

This is the second time this year that Pangalos has been sentenced by the Special Commission. In April he received a similar sentence and was ordered to be deprived of his political rights for a period of five years.

These sentences followed a charge of granting, while in power as Dictator, concessions which were onerous to the Treasury and savouring of corruption. The proceedings dealt with the granting of a gambling concession at Eleusis.

When sentenced in April Pangalos had already spent two and a half years in prison awaiting his trial, which lasted for three weeks.

General Pangalos had a sound military training and he became the Greek Minister for War in 1922 and later Commander-in-Chief of the army in Thrace. He later held several positions in the Cabinet but in 1925 placed himself at the head of a new revolution which began in the Salonika garrison and spread to the entire army and navy.

It was carried through without bloodshed, but he denied that he would act as dictator. In 1926, however, in consequence of "party fanaticism of the political leaders which hindered reconciliation" he declared a military dictatorship.

He banished ex-Premiers and Ministers, declared a forced loan, but later declared an amnesty and allowed exiled ministers to return. He eventually succeeded in organising a Cabinet under the former chairman of the Economics Commission Eftaxias, with wide powers to impose the drastic financial and other reforms necessitated by the slump in the drachma.—Reuter and I. B. S.

Immediately, the Fatshan was turned and a boat lowered from the ship.

A search was then made for the missing man, but no trace of him could be found. After cruising around the vicinity for a few more minutes, the Fatshan continued on her way to Hongkong.

A piece of paper was found by the comprador of the Fatshan among the man's belongings. On it was written, among other things, "Tung Kwai-pak" and "No. 2 Sai Ho Street," which are believed to be the man's name and address.
